for long accounts. From Manchester our advices reported a decidedly better tone with more inquiry from India than for some time past, while buying orders from Liverpool have taken many of the short sales made here to-day for the distant positions. Our market closes at a slight raily from the lowest point, but the sentiment still remains very bearish in view of the heavy receipts."

Receipts at ports to-day estimated at 4,000 bales against 4,010 bales last week and 575 bales last year. The spot market is easy at unchanged prices; middling uplands, 4% Sales, 291 bales. Transactions in futures 18,000 bales. Wheat—wheat options were moderately active and irregular this morning, but in the afternoon there was a firmer feeling on buying by the crowd, based on the theory that the market was ripe for a reaction from the recent decline. There was some talk of lice in the Kansas wheat fields, but it attracted little attention, the market closing firm at $566.50, higher. Spot lots closed firm; spot sales; No. 2 red winter, June, $1.075; August, $1.02; September, $1.0156.

The oil market was stronger than for some time past, and certificates advanced to 69-ec from 685ec., the close yesterday. This is more noteworthy from the fact that the increase in the net stocks above ground for the month of May was much in excess of the early estimates. July opened 684c.; highest, 694c.; lowest, 684c.; closing, 69c.

Chicago, June 12.—Wheat opened weak and le lower, but recovered most of the lost ground on a report that fifty localloads had been taken in New York for export. The market closed sac-lower for July and 3sc. higher for September. Esceptits, 88 cars.

lower for July and lac. higher for September. Receipts, 88 cars.

Corn—The corn market opened weak, with everybody struggling to sell regardless of prices. The bull crowd finally took hold and bid up prices in an aggressive fashion, at which the local shorts took fright. Closing prices were lac higher. Receipts, 24 cars.

Outs—Continued fine weather made the outs market very weak early. It bardened later and closed about steady at a decline of igc. Receipts, 163 cars.

Provisions—Provisions sold off a little early in the day, but an active short demand set in later that caused a sharp advance in prices. Pork closed 1756, 20c. higher; lard, 236, 673c. higher; and ribs, 15c. higher.

LEGAL NOTICES.

IN CHANCERY COURT OF RICHMOND CITY.

Henry L. Cabell, trustee, VS. M. E. McDowell and als. Henry L. Cabell, trustee, 1891. James D. Patton & Co.

And the second of the above-named causes is referred to one of the commissioners of the court with directions to state and report a final settlement of the accounts of the plaintiff as trustee under the deed of June 19, 1889, and a scheme of distribution of the fund remaining in the hands of said trustee, after paying all costs and expenses and proper charges. And said commissioner shall also inquire and report as to the status of the policies of insurance referred to in the bill and what disposition should be made of the said policies, all which the said commissioner shall report, together with any matter specially stated deemed pertinent by himself or required by any party to be so stated. In settling the account of the plaintiff as trusthe aforesaid the commissioner shall adopt as prima facie correct any account settled ex parte by such trustee and confirmed by this court.

The said commissioner shall give notice of the time and place of taking the accounts and executing the inquiries directed by this decree by publication once a week four successive weeks in some newspaper published in the city of Richmond, which publication shall be equivalent to public service on the parties to this suit or any of them.

COMMISSIONEE'S OFFICE, TENTH AND BANK STREETS, RICHMOND, VA., June 5, 1891. All parties interested in the above suit will take notice that I have fixed on my office as above as the place and June 29, 1891, at 10 A. M., as the time for executing the requirements of the decree, of which the above is an extract, at which time and place they must attend and do what is necessary to protect their rights in the premises.
